

Last name, First name of photographer (or author). Title of Artwork. Year artwork was created. Museum / Collection, Museum / Collection

Location, Title of Website. Web. Date you viewed it. <url>.

Note: The example below does not have all the elements of the sample above. Fill in the necessary information below and then follow the format as noted on NoodleTools.

Smithson, Janet. Palm Oil Processing Plant, Malaysia. Photograph. Encyclopedia Britannica Image Quest.

Web. 21 Nov. 2011. <<http://quest.eb.com>>.

Last name, First name of photographer _____, _____.
(Look for the photographer name under "Credit" on the right side of the page under the caption.)

Title of Artwork _____ .
(See the MLA citation information on the image. Use the title of the image for this field.)

Year Artwork was created. Photograph .
(On NoodleTools, insert the word "Photograph" (or whatever is in the image citation) in this field instead of year.

Museum / Collection, _____,
(On NoodleTools, leave this field blank.)

Museum / Collection Location, _____,
(On NoodleTools, leave this field blank.)

Title of Website.* Encyclopedia Britannica Image Quest.

Date you viewed it. _____.
(See date on printout .)

URL: http:// quest.eb.com. note: You need to remove the hyperlink (the blue link) and include only up to domain name

Note

- According to MLA 7th edition, web url's are no longer required in source citation information, although MLA leaves the use of url's to the discretion of the teacher. At Ancillae we will continue to cite web sources by including the url. You should retain your sources in case your teacher has a question about a source.